

Courtroom drama

Award-winning actress Nandita Das is back to theatre after eight years with play Between the Lines. Set in contemporary India, the drama explores the relationship of an affluent couple caught between modernity and traditions. Maya (played by Das) and Shekhar (played by Subodh Maskara) have been married for 10 years. While Shekhar is a high-profile criminal lawyer, Maya drafts routine contracts for a law firm. Coincidentally they end up on the opposite sides in an attempted murder case. Shekhar is the prosecutor and Maya, the defence lawyer. The court room battle affects their marriage in more than one way.
